

Progress:

Completed tutorials on Next.js and Material UI. Researched and learnt how to set up a basic app in Next.js. Developed a basic UI of item page of the shopping planner app. Used wiremock to mock REST API calls to test http calls from UI layer.

One thing I am most proud of that I accomplished this week: Why are you most proud of this?

Learnt Next.js and was able to start with a simple user interface for my app. Had encountered issues while setting up but was able to resolve them. I am happy that I could develop a simple UI though I am new to Next.js
